At Cavendish, in said County, this 17th day of December, A D. 1901, E. G. White, Town Clerk of Cavendish, Vt., personally appeared and made oath to the truth of the within statement in due form of law.

Report of Superintendent of Schools.

LIST OF TEACHERS.

- Dist. No. 1. Miss Gobie taught the Spring term.
 Miss Cole taught the Fall and Winter terms.
- No 2. H. E. Sessions in the Grammar department.
 Miss Sprague in the Intermediate department.
 Miss McCavet in the Primary department.
 (Each taught the three terms.)

- No. 3. Miss Cutler taught the Spring term.
Miss Chase taught the Fall and Winter terms.
- No. 4. Miss Adams taught the Spring term.
Miss Graves taught the Fall and Winter terms.
- No. 5. Miss Sargent taught all three terms.
- No. 8. Miss Gilchrist taught the Spring term.
Miss Hatch taught the Fall and Winter terms.
- No. 9. Miss Ward taught the Spring term.
Miss Stevens taught the Fall term.
Miss Horton taught the Winter term.

There have been ten schools of three terms each. Attendance has been notably regular, except in Proctorsville, where during the last weeks of the fall term, several were compelled to be absent because of sickness and its accompanying scare.

Tardiness has been the greatest trouble, and to overcome this fault the necessity has arisen, in the village, to enforce stringent rules. If parents would co-operate with the school officials in getting scholars into school on time, they would promote the continuous advancement of the pupil, and materially lessen the work of the teacher.

Very few breaches of discipline have been reported to the superintendent. The teachers have had their business well in hand, and in most cases an unmistakable desire has been evinced, by all concerned, to concur for the attainment of better and satisfactory results.

I wish to repeat what was said in the last report of the superintendent of schools: that frequent changing of teachers is not advantageous. At the beginning of the term much valuable time is lost in the proper ranking of the pupil, and this time is of great importance in our short terms. I would suggest that the directors seek out efficient teachers and when they are found pay enough to secure their continued services.

I was much surprised to find an obvious lack of system in classification. Age or inclination, and not ability, determined rank, which was varied as the whim of the child dictated. This has been changed; examinations are now required, and those who do not merit 70 per cent. are compelled to resume the study of those branches in which they are found to be deficient. Only scholars who have completed the work of the third year are supposed to be found in the intermediate department where they are to remain until the studies of the sixth or seventh year of a graded school are finished. They then go to the grammar department where they complete the work corresponding to the eighth, ninth and tenth grades of a graded school.

Promotion from room to room should not be allowed more than once a year, preferably at the beginning of the fall term.

In the grammar department at present there are too many classes to permit the proper assimilation of all the work gone over. As time goes on this course will be improved by dividing proportionately the work between this and the intermediate department.

There have been some changes in text books: Harper's geographies have displaced Frye's and results testify to the advisability of the change. Vertical writing, so much complained of by business men, is gradually giving place to the Natural Slant system. The so-called Tarbell's Lessons in Language are still in use, but give very little satisfaction to either teacher or pupil. I would suggest superseding these books by some more satisfactory text as Metcalf's or Reed & Kellogg's latest edition.

Physiology has very little attention given to it. The law requiring it should be fulfilled to the letter.

History was taught very little at the beginning of the year in any of the schools. The lack of knowledge of it displayed by pupils of even 14 or 15 years was disappointing. Few even knew what the Declaration of Independence was. It was at once given its proper place in the curriculum. The positive need of maps in many of the schoolrooms has been partially met, but more should be done in this direction during the coming year.

Teachers are prone to fall into the habit of asking leading questions. This is a fault and must be guarded against. They should demand that all lessons be slowly and comprehensively rendered by the pupil and not make the recitations themselves.

I would urge upon the parents to visit the schools more often and, besides showing an inclination to encourage the children, become qualified to judiciously aid in making these mental work-shops more efficient.

H. F. HULL, SUPT.
